

Clinical Trials Education Begins With You!

You can help your patients make informed decisions about participating in clinical trials. The National Cancer Institute's NEW Clinical Trials Education Series includes workbooks, slide presentations, videos, and more to help you offer patients, families, and community groups easy-to-understand information on clinical trials.

To order FREE materials, call 1-800-4-CANCER or download them at www.cancer.gov/publications.